African Macassar Ebony veneer is the most widely used in the Ebony family. Its applications range from musical instruments to tool handles. Its unusual grain makes it difficult to get more sheets to match. If you are looking for sequenced sheets, select the Premium option. We will not be able to sequence in Standard veneer choices. Macassar Ebony Wood Veneer is found primarily in the Celebes Islands. It may be known as Madagascar, Tendu, Temru, Tunki and Timbruni, but is most commonly called Indian Ebony, Coromandel and Calamander Wood. Macassar ebony is one of the most desirable, classic and exotic wood veneers available. Our selection is small because we only buy high-end grades. This type of ebony will be hard to find with a reasonable price, but we have done our best to make these veneer sheets as affordable as possible. Be sure to check out the marble ebony category for more of this beautiful species. We also offer this kind of AA-quality paper-backed veneer, which can be used with contact cement or any other veneer glue. Most of our work is customer-centric, so we are always happy and willing to build on your ideas as best we can. It all started in 1955, when my father - Mr. Kanhaiyal Shah began trading in wood, plywood and doors. He managed to set up a strong business, along with a brilliant network of other merchants and customers alongside a like. For the last 25 years I have continued and fortified this business by adding new products like - MDF, Particle Boards, ACP and Corian. We have also diversified in manufacturing, by making Value Addition on the above products such as Laser Inserts (Marquetry), CNC Routing, Jaali Cutwork, 2D and 3D Engraving, Signs, Gifting Ideas and more. These are all adapted to your requirements and improve your space in that regard. Originally our customers included merchants, distributors and homeowners. But since we started the entire manufacturing page (especially marquetry), we have attracted some of the greatest architects and interior designers in India. They really appreciate the level of precision we put into even the smallest jobs, and always refer us to other potential customers out there."Atmanirbhar Bharat"... "BE INDIAN BUY INDIAN". "MADE IN INDIA". Company Video Video
